Third Win Cheers Fans

by Glen Willardson
Associate Sports Editor

BYU's football team shrugged off icy rain and cold winds Saturday to dampen University of Utah 17-13, in BYU stadium. It was the third consecutive win over Redskins in a heated rivalry that dates back to 1922. For Coach Tom Hudspeth, three wins against Utah are more than the football coaches at BYU have been able to collectively.

"GREAT WIN"
Coach Hudspeth expressed disappointment for not scoring more, but summed up victory by saying "It was a great win for our purposes."

Admission to the contest being a "close battle," the outcome was gauged in the Western Ath. Conference as a decided win, practically sewed up championship with a 15-13 over Arizona State. BYU's record for the year is 4-2.

During its offense to a running game, BYU rolled up 377 yards against Redskin ambuses.

Tom Rippee, Wally Hawkins, Wakley, Perry Rodriguez and Call stormed the middle of the line—anassing over 200 yards and quarterback Marc Sims and Terry Sanford ran the lines for another 170 yards between them.

Block Seating

Block seating requests for the 11 Homecoming game must be submitted in the form of a addressed envelope into Dan Moot's box on the Wilkinson Center fourth floor by 5 p.m. Tues. Quotas will be assigned via self-addressed envelope.

Bruce R. McConkie o Address Devotional

Elder Bruce R. McConkie, member of the First Council of the Seventy of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will address the devotional assembly Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

A former Army security and intelligence officer, newspaper editorial writer and public official, Elder McConkie was born in Ann Arbor, Mich., while his father was attending law school there.

Educated at Salt Lake City, Elder McConkie filled a mission in the Eastern States, and graduated from the University of Utah in 1937 with a B.A. degree, and in 1939 with a bachelor of laws degree.

From 1942 to 1946 he served in the U.S. Army and attained the rank of lieutenant colonel.

As a member of the General Authorities, he has been servicemen's coordinator for the Church.

Conference Hosting Officials

Utah Governor Calvin L. Rampton, Church officials and other dignitaries are participating in a "Balanced Growth Conference" today on the BYU campus.

Hosted by Pres. Ernest L. Wilkinson, the conference will begin at 8:30 a.m. in the Concert Hall of the Harris Fine Arts Center. Governor Rampton will be the luncheon speaker in the Wilkinson Center ballroom, after which the conference will reconvene in the Concert Hall for panel discussions.

Speakers include Robert C. Moot, SBA administrator, Washington, D.C.; Elder Howard Hunter, member of the Council of the Twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; and Dr. James C. Fletcher, president of University of Utah.

Homecoming Royalty Named...

Gloria Beckstead To Reign

She told the packed Fieldhouse Thursday she left her costume petticoat at a basketball game last year.

"And now I want to leave something with you," she said.

She blushed.

The guys grinned.

But Gloria Beckstead went on to leave a "love for BYU" and a pledge to serve ably the student body as Homecoming Queen.

Miss Beckstead was named the 1967 Homecoming Queen Friday night.

Tennis Test

A labor-management dispute exists at BYU.

Management's Dr. Joseph Woods, a new faculty member of the College of Religion and History, stands firm on the number of History 121 tests to be given this semester.

The student labor force claims one less test should be given.

The two factions agreed to settle the protest on the tennis court.

Dr. Wood is confident: "I'm slow, but I have a sliding, twisting serve that has never been beaten."

The proletarian's player, Ray Prescott, is a freshman from Jerome, Idaho. "I won't let the class down," he asserted. "I will return Dr. Wood's serve and aid the forces of student power."

The match is today at 3:15 p.m. on the Fieldhouse tennis courts.

Friday evening a Homecoming delegation surprised the queen and her two attendants in a house-to-house trek broadcast over a local radio station.

"I've been going crazy!" gasped Elaine Schwartz, when she learned she was second attendant. "I can't believe it!"

Ecstatically jumping up and down, Mary Alldredge screamed, "Oh, this can't be me!" One roommate exclaimed, "Our prayers have been answered," when Miss Alldredge was told she was first attendant.

SELLING TICKETS

Queen Gloria was working at the information desk at the Wilkinson Center when the delegation confronted her with the news of her victory. She stopped laughing and sobbing long enough to sell Varsity Theater tickets to a group of students. "I'm so happy," she smiled. "I have to call my mother."

A 19 year old junior from Riverton, Utah, Gloria is a business education major. She plans to become a teacher after graduation. Dancing—especially folk dancing—is her favorite pastime. Also water skiing and sports enthusiast, Gloria was sponsored by the International Folk Dancers.

First attendant, Mary Alldredge, is a 20-year-old junior from Salt Lake City. Her major is a CDPR-Elementary Education composite. Sponsored by Arnold Air Society, Mary stated her future plans were "immediate college."

An English major, Elaine Schwartz is from Ogden, Utah. A BYU junior, the new second attendant plans to either teach English after graduation, or go on to get a master's degree. She was also sponsored by Folk Dancers. When asked to come to the phone for the radio interview, Elaine sighed that she didn't think she could.

Black Implications Of Drug Traffic

A few BYU students will be subject to questioning or possible prosecution as a result of the incident reported on this page of today's Universe.

If the drug being analyzed turns out to be a narcotic the thrills sought by its users may prove to be very costly.

Current laws provide for a prison sentence of five to 20 years and possible fines up to $20,000 for persons convicted of possession or sale of narcotics. There is no provision for parole or probation of even first-time offenders.

The moral implications of this type of activity should be enough to keep students on this campus from becoming involved, even without the stiff penalties. The escapism and petty crime associated with narcotics traffic is far beneath the dignity of anyone seeking growth and enlightenment, and should be the least likely problem of any educational institution.

It is disturbing that, for the second time this year, students on this campus have been implicated in narcotics investigations. True-it is a reflection of problems being encountered at other universities throughout the nation. But it is usually associated with weaker moral standards than those accepted as minimal for "Y" students.

Successful interaction of students, citizens, and law enforcement officers has helped to curtail narcotics traffic in many college communities and indicates a healthy awareness of the problem.

The great majority of BYU students are to be commended for their integrity and resistance to extreme activities. The isolated incidents encountered this year should not be taken as indications of a trend. They should serve as a reminder that the narcotics problem is insidious and persistent. It requires alertness and intelligent concern if it is to be avoided.

We urge all students to alert for suspicious behavior and report any incident to police. Remember, if you try to ignore it you help it along.

Athletics Office Has Growing Pains

You may not have realized, before Cougar Day (bless 'em) converged upon us in all their enlightening splendor, that there is indeed a student athletics office. It was created last year in a division of responsibilities of the office of the vice president of student relations.

It's highly possible that you were not in the audience at Thursday's Forum Assembly and therefore missed the spirited performance by the first ASBYU vice president of athletics (an ex-cheerleader, obviously).

Unless you happened to notice the display set up by the office of Thursday and Friday in the Wilkins Center, you may still have been ignorant of its existence on Friday when you noticed the portable (and, thankfully, temporary) hoopseow that suddenly presented itself in the quad.

However, the reality of the athletics office probably began to materialize in your psyche as you found yourself accused by two or more behemoths who unceremoniously deposited you in said (and, thankfully, temporary) jail for unexcusably bedecking yourself in your favorite crimson dress (I know, I know, not even mini).

Why weren't you forewarned, you ask? One can only shrug his shoulders and sigh along with you.

The reason why the publicity about the rally, the anti-red business, the Odile-for-

All-America campaign, etc., was kept under wraps until virtually Friday is a matter for conjecture.

Yes, the student athletics office was in charge of the good pep rally and selected this year's final yell leaders and pep beauties and works with the rab pep band.

You say that until the big splash on Friday, very little in the way of athletic support has been evident around campus since the loss to Wyoming.

Apparently the office run by Bob, Stan and Sev (bless 'em) is experiencing growing pains. Undoubtedly many agree with you that more foresight ought certainly to be forthcoming.

Without question our student leaders are aware that mid-season is not the time to begin a one-day shot at All-America, and they surely couldn't have planned to hit you with the anti-red thing on the very day it was in effect, could they?

Scuttlebut has it the fledgling office is hatching a drive to toot Kari Lillo from All-American honors. Do you suppose it could get under way before March, 1968?

Yes, there is an ASBYU Athletics Office, run by some really nice guys who, it is hoped, aren't trying to prove the Leo Durocher expletive, "Nice guys finish last."

Bands Cheer Freezing Fans

To most of the fans at Saturday's game the rain was an undesirable but expected guest. It dampened everything but spirits and made the pigskin as slick as ice.

As the teams left the stadium at half-time a number of fans did the same. Those who remained behind peered from beneath umbrellas and improvised shelters at a most unlikely spectacle.

In the middle of the field two bands and a number of majorettes slogged cheerfully through the mud and rent the air with the happy sounds of a half time show.

A groan of empathy went up from the crowd as the majorettes dropped to the turf in their finale and again when the band kneeled in salute to the crowd but the smiling faces of the performers took a lot of the edge off a cold miserable afternoon.

To a few it was ridiculous...to most it was great. The efforts of these various pep groups should be a source of pride to everyone associated with the schools they represent.

We salute the members of the U. of U. and BYU bands, and performing groups that accompanied them for an outstanding effort.

Letters To The Editor

The letter to the editor by Larry Vollinger disgusted me. In it he said that civil disobedience was justified if the issue seems substantial to the protesters.

May I remind you, Larry that to the protestor any issue that he is involved in seems substantial.

The Civil Rights movement was selected as a "good example" of the power of civil disobedience. Indeed it is. It is an example of the bloodshed, destruction, and death that can result from civil disobedience.

"After all, we asked as much of the Germans under Hitler." Did we? I seem to recall that the Mormon Germans under Hitler were told to fight for their country, not against it.

Also, I recall an Article of Faith that state, "We believe in being subject to kings, presidents, rulers, and magistrates, in obeying, honoring, and sustaining the law. As members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and/or as students of this university, we should do just that."

We have seen, in the past few weeks, that people can find solutions to problems through legal, peaceful means. Let us continue to do so.

Kathleen Meyer

PROTEST

Editor:
To Ken Larsen, reference to his remarks on the lawlessness of Vietnam protesters: I would have appreciated a little more explanation of the types of attitudes and activities. Mr. Larsen feels are "lawless." I believe all legitimate categorizations are not only unfair but dangerous.

It is not necessary to break the law in order to "sit up an action" over an issue or to "demonstrate." In the country we have the privilege of dissent and demonstration. The privilege can be abused, as it sometimes is, but how fortunate the United States has not yet approached the tyranny of the totalitarian governments, in which one must voice consent with government policy, or be removed!

I wonder if it has occurred to Mr. Larsen that one can demonstrate peacefully in a country, yet disagree with one of its policies, in the belief that a different approach would result in a better situation for his country. I, too, am a Vietnam dissenter, but I consider myself a loyal American, and will never consent to being labeled an "American," a category in which Mr. Larsen, by intimation, has placed me. The Kingdom of heaven is the only state to which I will pledge my unquestioning obedience, and so far I have not equated Washington with this kingdom. My reasons for opposing the war in Vietnam are not the issue at present, but I assure you, Mr. Larsen, they are not subversive. A little less

Court Fine U Vandals $100 Each

Four U. of U. students been fined $100 with $50 suspended each, and four more charges in Provo City Court similar complaints.

Court prosecution of campus vandals has become the P.I. of BYU, according to a statement released by Dean of Student Elliott Cameron, Tuesday.

Charges in court were made by BYU officials against eight of U. students.

Four students Friday, fined $100 each, with $50 suspended on charges of painting a red block "U" on the J. Knight Bldg. Each pleaded guilty. A 10-day jail sentence is mandatory if the fines are not paid Nov. 9.

The complaint was signed Wesley Sherwood, BYU Security Officer.

Y Student Arrested

Provo Police are investigating an incident allegedly involving a dog which hospitalized a E. student.

The youth was listed in the condition at Utah Valley Hospital where he was being treated for cut wrists. He was reportedly seen Saturday and was placed in the intensive care department.

Hospital officials reported Saturday evening the youth had been moved from the intensive care department and was in satisfactory condition.

Another student was being held in the Utah County Jail for investigation. Police identified him as the roommate of the hospitalized youth. Police said both are suspected of using what is believed to be a narcotic.

Police also stated evidence will be confiscated for analysis by state chemist.

Several other students, boys and girls, are being questioned about the incident and legend use of dope, police said.

CHRYSLER TRIES TO AVOID UAW STRIKE

DETROIT (UPI)—Bargainers for the United Auto and the Chrysler Corp. split into subcommittees in an attempt to reach a contract settlement and thus avoid a strike by the UAW.

The UAW targeted Chrysler as its next strike victim after Douglas Frazer, head of the UAW's Chrysler Department, said Chrysler, rather than General Motors, was because "we have some particular problems here at GM."

Among these problems are the 9,000 salaried workers at Chrysler represented by the UAW. None of GM's or Ford's collar workers are represented by the union.

Essentially, the UAW wants an agreement with Chrysler to the contract it won at Ford Motor Company.

The Soviets have stressed with each announcement of Vietnam aid that their arms and equipment were being sent to the North Vietnamese government of Ho Chi Minh.

AID, OEO

INGTON (UPI)—The Office of Economic Opportunity and the Office for International Development Sunday they were managing to function normally even though they have been penniless past week.

Agencies have been broke—er, at least—since 12:01 a.m. Tuesday. At that time, their ability to spend expired because less failed to pass a routine permitting them to continue using federal funds.

And OEO, like dozens of federal agencies, have been operating since the fiscal year began July 1 on a month to basis.

Reason is that their regular appropriations bills for the entire year have been delayed. This happens, Congress usually acts through a simple measure authorizing government to continue spending at last levels for 30 days or until regular appropriations are enacted.

The 30 days extension got stuck two weeks ago when House stuck a controversial item on ordering President Johnson to cut federal spending by an additional $6 million to $8 million. Senate refused to accept the and at the end of last week, a conference committee had to settle the differences.

Some of other agencies wined and dined cutoff, since their regular appropriations bills cleared days later.

Cong, Buddhists Threaten Trouble...

HHH To Attend Thieu Inauguration

SAIGON (UPI)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey who arrived in Vietnam with war raging on the doorsteps of Saigon, set up a trip to see American troops in the field today before he calls on President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu.

A spokesman said the field trip would be a short one because Humphrey was scheduled to present his credentials to Thieu during the afternoon. Details about the trip were top secret to protect the Vice President.

Humphrey and his party arrived aboard an Air Force Jetliner at 3:28 p.m. Sunday (2:28 a.m. MST) for Tuesday's inauguration and the National Day ceremonies on Wednesday.

THREATEN VIOLENCE

But the Viet Cong and militant Buddhists have threatened to sabotage the celebrations, the Buddhist with civil disturbances and the Communists with bullets and bombs.

streaked off nearby runways with a full load of bombs, rockets and napalm and an earshattering roar.

WITNESS FOR AMERICA

"I come as witness for those millions of Americans who trust in the steady progress being made in Vietnam as symbolized by this inauguration — those Americans, like myself, are confident you will persevere in the face of aggression and subversion," Humphrey said during a brief welcoming ceremony. "And we stand with you."

Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky, who will be sworn in as vice president Tuesday, led the delegation of Vietnamese dignitaries. Humphrey also was met by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Deputy Ambassador Eugene Murphy Locke and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, American military commander, who was dressed in green Army fatigues and wore a baseball cap with his four silver stars.

WELL PROTECTED

Security was heavy. An armored personnel carrier pulled up near the terminal building, in a position to cover the entire ramp with .50 caliber machinegun and grenade launchers formed a security screen around the entire area and took posts on top of the terminal building.

There also were South Vietnamese troops and dozens of secret service body guards.

Ashkenazy To Be At Lyceum

Vladimir Ashkenazy, brilliant young Soviet pianist, brings the techniques and talent that have made him internationally famous to BYU at 8:15 p.m. Thursday.

Tickets for this second program in the Lyceum series may be reserved by students at the Fine Arts Center ticket office for 50¢. Students waiting until Thursday after 3 p.m. may receive tickets with activity cards.

Born in 1937, the artist entered the Central Music School of Moscow at the age of eight and started his prize-studded career at 17 by winning second prize at the Fifth National Chopin Competition in Warsaw.

RENOWED TEACHER

Following the competition, the teenage pianist entered the Moscow State Conservatory, studying with Lev Oborin, one of the world's most renowned teachers.

At the age of 19 he burst into world prominence by winning First Prize in the Queen Elisabeth Competition in Brussels. Thirteen jurors, including Arthur Rubinstein, Emil Gilels and Robert Casadesus, chose the young pianist over some 59 artists from 50 countries.

International fame brought demands for performances from many countries and he launched on concert tours, visiting North America for the first time in 1958. Sold-out houses and dazzled critics in New York proclaimed him "a young poet of the piano."

WIFE IS PIANIST

Following this first tour, he attended the First Tchaikovsky Competition in Moscow as a spectator. This competition which brought world fame to youthful Van Cliburn, brought Ashkenazy face to face with the youngest female pianist there, a beautiful Icelander named Dodi Trygvasson. Years later she interrupted studies with her teacher Oborin to marry Ashkenazy and they have two children.

In 1961 Ashkenazy was asked by Soviet authorities to play in Second Tchaikovsky Competition which he became joint First Winner.

This is his third North American tour. His current concert series began in October with some 30 concerts scheduled.

Vladimir Ashkenazy, world-famous Soviet pianist and winner of three international competitions performs Thursday at a Lyceum.

Dean C. Christensen has been a coordinator of the College Education doctoral internship program at BYU, according to an announcement made by Pres. Ernster Wilkinson.

Internship program is an extension of a program begun by National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP) which BYU has been co-operating in.

In the fifth year of project, with BYU, there are 125 candidates in educational administration who are serving as interns across the nation.

INTERN WORK

Interns, doctoral candidates and high school and junior schools where their attention is directed to improvement of instruction and introduction of innovation in teaching.

Christensen is one of the co-coordinators of the BYU internship program in the fields of education-administration, curriculum, counseling and guidance, psychology and special education.

PROGRAM GROWTH

The program is growing rapidly, according to Dr. Christensen. This year were requested for 15 intern positions than he filled, and next year, one Salt Lake school district alone wants interns. With this internship experience plus a doctoral degree, beginning salaries are often more attractive than those of most second-school administrators, he said.

October Student Of The Month

John S. Schwendiman, senior economics major from Freeport, Ill., has been named the October "Student of the Month."

Schwendiman has a 3.89 GPA and has held a BYU Honors scholarship for four years.

He has fulfilled a mission to West Germany and is now Sunday School superintendent of the BYU Sixth Ward.

He is vice-president of Omicron Delta Epsilon, a member of Phi Kappa Phi, and Beta Gamma Sigma, and is a teaching assistant in the Economics Department.

Since studying economics, Schwendiman says he has gained many analytical tools to understand today's complex business world and an appreciation of the many factors which must be considered in making business decisions.

"My philosophy on studying is never get behind. I make a list each day and do the most important things first," he said.

Students of the month are selected by the ASBYU Academic Recognition Committee.

Cougars Rock Utah In Muddy Triumph

was fantastic." The Cat defenders nullified the Ute offensive drive, recovering three fumbles, intercepting three passes and allowing penetration across the 50-yard line only twice in the second half.

BYU's passing attack was retired after the rain started to fall midway through the second quarter. Up to that time, Phil Odle had four receptions and Casey Boyett three. One of Odle's snags was a 21-yarder from Lyons for the final Cougar score.

Although they didn't catch many passes, Odle and Boyett were busy helping the running game. Both were double-teamed by Utah's secondary and succeeded in pulling the defenders down-field—allowing Lyons and Sanford to roll around the ends for big gains.

RIPPLE RAMBLES

The biggest ground gainer for BYU was Tom Ripple, junior fullback, who bulldozed his way for 120 yards in 25 carries. Ripple scored the second touchdown for the Cougars in the closing seconds of the game, carrying the ball 17 yards in the last four plays to get the score.

Prior to Ripple's clincher, BYU's offense penetrated the Ute line so effectively there was little doubt that the Cougars would score, but the question was—when?

Leading 7-0 after Odle's TD reception, the Cougars drove to the Ute 20, and missed a field goal. Moments later Paul Surovics intercepted a Jack Gehrie pass, and the Cats raced to the three-yard line. Lyons passed to Odle and it was answered by Gary Barker who ran it back 30 yards to score and tie it at 7-7.

In the opening minutes of the second quarter, Patera booted a 33-yard field goal to give the Cats a 10-7 edge.

Leo Presley recovered a Ute fumble on the Redskins' 16-yard line and Sanford threw a pass to Odle in the end zone, but the play was nullified by a personal foul on BYU.

Kittens Win, 55-13 ...

Y Freshmen Destroy Ute

By John Apgar

BYU's freshman football team got off to an auspicious start Friday afternoon when the Kittens crushed Utah's highly-rated freshman crew 55-13.

Y coach Dick Felt used all three of his quarterbacks while watching his team roll up 533 yards in total offense in the opening game of the fresh season for BYU.

READING ROLLS

Kitten fullback Chris Reading stole the show from Utah's Charlie Evans as the Cougar pile-driver rushed for 183 yards and two TDs. The BYU defense held Evans—one of the nation's top prep stars last year—to 60 yards in 20 carries.

Chris Farasopoulos and Bill Miller each caught TD passes for the Kittens while Dan Bowers led in receptions with five.

The BYU quarterback—Rick Jones, Mark Hulse and Ron Roberts—all threw scoring passes with Roberts having the best percentage of completion at 3 of 4.

GREAT DEFENSE

The powerful Cougar defense held Utah to just 119 yards total offense. Monster-back Randy Beckstead intercepted a stray Redskin pass and took it for a TD and the rugged line play led to a recovered fumble in the end zone for the defense's second score.

It was the sixth straight victory for the BYU yearling over the Pa-poses in the past three years. The two teams square off again Nov. 17 against Utah State's freshmen in Provo.

Next game for the Ki...
this Friday.

Happiness Is Athletic Superiority Over Utes

time was, and none too many in the past, when BYU was "Uter Playhouse" and "BY High cool" to students and boosters of the Red institution forty miles west.

There are still many on the Y campus who recall with something as than glee being forced countless times to bite their tongues when confronted by a hooting Red in following a severe sports defeat.

Especially in the major sports the Indians reign supreme, and the lopsided football record is well known to supporters of both sides. No one is happier than Tommy Hinschelwood that the trend has reversed with three straight Cougar triumphs on the gridiron.

Ah, how the tides of fortune change.

One can sympathize with the folks up on the Reservation if they find the recent BYU surge to athletic supremacy a most bitter pill to swallow and resort to cheap vandalism and editorial indiscretion in the student newspaper to attempt retribution.

After all, it's been three years since the Redskins have tasted victory over BYU in football, basketball, or fresh football and thus far in the 1967-68 school year Cougar squads have downed Utah in tennis, golf and cycling competition, plus divided with the 'Skins in two water polo games.

Utah refuses to compete against the Y in cross country.

During the past academic year the Utes managed to finish ahead of BYU in but three of ten conference varsity sports.

It looks like another long, lean year for the Indians if they are to satisfy themselves with a diet of Cougar meat.

Wrestling coach Fred Davis, swimming coach Walt Cryer, golf coach Karl Tucker, tennis coach Wayne Pearce, and track coach Clarence Robison are making little effort to disguise their optimism.

Of the above sports, only in swimming has Utah maintained an obvious edge in the past, and the gap has been diminishing.

For the athletic supporters of the Redskins to become accustomed to the new status alignment will naturally take awhile and those whose loyalties lie south of the Reservation must accept it as being a matter of course if the vocal cheer of the fans exceeds athletic accomplishment.

For exponents of the Salt Lake City institution will surely continue to hurl derisive epithets at BYU, but such utterances will be strained, what with the tongue stuck in cheek.

The effectiveness of Cougar teams these days was pretty well summed up by Ute coach Mike Giddings after Saturday's game: "You just kicked us out of us."

One way in which that school has it over BYU, though—they sure have one heck of a successful rain dance crew!

—by Gary Wood

Cyclists Win Annual Bike Race

Bicyclists Tom Gridley and Dave Pratt crossed the finish line shoulder-to-shoulder Saturday as BYU scored a 16-4 team victory over a University of Utah in the sixth annual BYU-Utah bike race. It was only the second team victory for BYU in the six years of competition. The event is sponsored annually by the Daily Universe and the Utah Chronicle.

TWO HOURS

The two BYU bike racers finished in a time of 2 hours 18 minutes and 32 seconds for the 50-mile curse from the University of Utah to BYU Stadium.

Minutes after the race started, rain began to fall on the course, but gusty 20 mile-an-hour winds from the north "pushed" the cyclists in the southerly route for one of the fastest times recorded in the race.

Third place finisher John Scoville of Utah was the only man to place the Utes, and Barth Bybee of BYU finished fourth. Another man on BYU's team, George Schwarzenbach, failed to finished the race as he was run off the road near the foot of the Mountain.

CHALLENGER DROPS

Gridley and Pratt were challenged by Utah's Scoville until the turnoff where the Y pedaled its turned on the speed—coming across the finish two minutes ahead of the Ute.

Pratt is a senior from Tucson, Ariz., majoring in Spanish. Gridley is also a senior. He is from Pocatello, Idaho, and is majoring in English.

Both Gridley and Pratt were racing 16-speed bikes. Gridley's is a Mercier and Pratt's is a French unequal. Bybee, a graduate student in history, also had a 16-speed.

Challengers Top Board With Picks

Three challengers topped the board of pigskin prognosticators last weekend by picking 13 winners in the top college football games across the nation.

Wayne Simmons, Alan Bradbury and Bruce Beck missed only one game each in the 15 games scheduled on the board. One game—Colorado vs. Air Force—ended in a 17-17 tie.

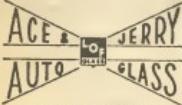

Bradbury and Simmons submitted scores on their sheets that were nearly identical, so both will be guests on next week's panel.

Of those who won all the regular board this week, Gary Dayton of the Wilkinson Center Barber Shop and guests Wes Jensen and Dave Fitzpatrick scored 13-3 records.

Associate Sports Editor Glen Wilsdon had a 10-1 record, the IBM 7600 was 9-1, and Sports Editor Gary Wood scored 7-7-1.

BYU Harriers Romp To Victory In Meet

By Bob Hudson
University Sportswriter

BYU's cross country team continued its winning ways Saturday morning as it won the team title in the Intermountain AAU Meet held at Salt Lake City's Sugarhouse Park.

The Cats completely dominated the meet as they swept the first five places and eight of the first ten.

Former Cougar great Ray Barrus led throughout most of the race and finished the 3.5 mile course with a time of 17.01. Bob Richards finished five seconds behind to take second place. Olsen again proved he has beat out Dan Clark for the Ray Rotansky, who has come on strong the past weeks, finished fifth.

Others deserving of mention include freshmen Steve Bertram from BYU High, and Louis Sorenson from South Torrance, Calif.

The team next travels to Tahoe where the Cougars will compete in the Lake Tahoe High Grade Cross Country Run with ten other universities.

YOUR CAREER IN REFRACTORIES

The refractories industry was born to harness the energy of fire and put it to work producing steel, aluminum, copper, glass, cement, lime—the building blocks of the world. Refractories are deeply involved in nearly every manufactured product. They are the construction materials with which industrial furnaces are built.

Who is H-W? In the century following Harbison-Walker's establishment in 1865, it has grown into the world's largest producer of refractory products—one of the top 500 U. S. corporations. The 4400 people we currently employ all contribute to our total sales—annual volume exceeding $100,000,000.

AN H-W REPRESENTATIVE WILL BE ON YOUR CAMPUS ON OCTOBER 31, 1967

Church Completes New Film

The BYU Motion Picture Studio has recently completed filming a half-hour drama based on the lives of the three witnesses of the Book of Mormon.

In "The Three Witnesses," the story centers on David Whitmer in 1891 as he is challenged regarding his testimony of the Book of Mormon. His public reaffirmation of his testimony takes him to the office of the well-known Alexander W. Doniphan. Here, in retelling his experience with the angel, Whitmer takes us back to meet Joseph Smith, Oliver Cowdery and Martin Harris, and to witness the assurance of the truthfulness of the Book of Mormon. We then see incidents in the later lives of the witnesses, showing that they were always true to the testimonies they had received.

The film was directed by W. O. Whittaker, head of the BYU Motion Picture Studio.

Fletcher Ends FBI Career

Once faced with many exciting experiences as an agent for the FBI, Dr. Charles Fletcher has now joined the calm force of the BYU faculty.

Dr. Fletcher, who was with the FBI for 27 years, retired from the FBI to come to BYU. Here he teaches two "Introduction to Law Enforcement" classes, in connection with one of the newest programs added to the BYU curriculum, Law Enforcement.

Dr. Fletcher has encountered many opportunities to enforce the law.

"Most Wanted Men"

While serving as an agent in New Hampshire he was instrumental in the apprehension of Public Enemies number one and two, who would be known today as among the "Ten Most Wanted Men." These convicts fashioned a cell key from a toothbrush and were able to escape from what was previously an escape-proof jail.

The warden's car had been left running during an errand and made a perfect get-away car for the duo. Dr. Fletcher led the raid in Concord, N. H., which brought about the apprehension and subsequent arrests of the armed felons. He refers to this incident as the case of the "Toothbrush Twins," so named because of the clever escape.

Concerning problems which face the FBI, Dr. Fletcher feels that recent emphasis on the Supreme Court decision of individual rights is not any greater a problem for the FBI now than before the decision.

CRIMINAL CLOAK

"Although it provides added protection or gives a cloak to the criminal, I wouldn't have it changed for the world. This is when our democracy is based upon the Bill of Rights. It is the big demarcation between this country and dictatorship, democracy and totalitarianism," he said.

Important also is the recognition of lack of knowledge in general as to the public role the FBI plays. Often the public becomes critical when it feels the FBI has been lax on an incident, not realizing that this organization does have limitations.

"Just because a case is serious and receives widespread publicity, does not mean that the FBI can take action. Their actions are governed strictly by statute," Dr. Fletcher stated.

Such seemed to be the case with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the public controversy over the actions of the FBI at that time. The FBI could take no action, the professor said, because it has no jurisdiction over the assassination of a president.

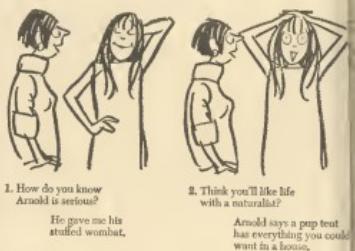

Dr. Fletcher said that there is a strong need for honest, conscientious law enforcement officers, and feels that BYU is a very good place to foster them.

Law Scholarships Open

Competition is open for 20 Root-Tilden and 10 John Ben Snow Scholarships in Law for the coming school year. The scholarships, paid at $3,500 a year plus full tuition, are tenable at New York University School of Law, and are designed to aid young men who show promise of becoming outstanding lawyers.

A candidate must hold a baccalaureate degree at the beginning of the scholarship, rank in the upper quarter of his class, be a U.S. citizen between 20 and 30, single, and have no previous law school. All candidates must take the National School Admission Test in November, 1967. The deadline for filing application is December 1, 1967.

All inquiries and communications concerning the Root-Tilden and John Ben Snow Scholarships should be directed to the Root-Tilden Scholarship Committee, New York University School of Law, Washington Square, New York, New York 10003, or to Harry L. Hobbs, Josephine Sargent & B. 100 Farmers & Bankers Life Bldg, Wichita, Kansas 67202.

Fall Edition Of BYU Studies Out

The first edition of the new Brigham Young University Studies under new direction is off the press.

Editor Charles Tate, assistant professor of English at BYU, noted with satisfaction that the quarterly is out on time, and for the first time in the history of the eight-year-old magazine, will be printed in four separate quarterly editions.

The fall edition sweeps from Dr. D. H. McNamee's "The Origin, Structure, and Evolution of the Stars" to the muddy realities of Dr. Ray C. Hillman's in-person observations of the Vietnam struggle in "What Burns, Bombs, and Lives Have Not Purified: The Frustration of Vietnam."

In between are studies on "The New Morality" by Dr. Harold T. Christensen of Purdue; Dr. Neal E. Lambert's examination of the actual freedom of the American Cowboy; and an analysis of "External Progression and the Foreknowledge of God" by Dr. James R. Harris.

A unique feature for scholars is D. L. Ashliman's annotated bibliography of Mormon-oriented publications in German from 1845-1956, possibly the only such bibliography existing.

"Want a company where you can really put your education to work? See IBM November 9th"

"Some of the engineers who graduated before me complained that their education didn't mean much in their jobs. That's not what I wanted," says IBM's Jim Carr. (Jim is a Manager of Mechanical Process Engineering.)

"At IBM I knew I'd be using what I learned. There's so much diversity here that you can usually work in the specific area you choose. In my own case, I majored in Mechanical Engineering and minored in Metallurgy. Today my ME degree means more than ever. And I often use my metallurgical background. For example, I'm now working on a process development program that requires a knowledge of machine design, metallurgy, heat transfer, and chemistry, all of which I studied in school."

"Another good thing about IBM's diversity is that it creates an interdisciplinary environment. You get a chance to work with and learn from people in many different fields. Since our industry is growing so fast, the people you talk to are likely to be working at state-of-the-art levels or beyond."

There's a lot more to the IBM story than Jim has mentioned. We'd like to tell you about it when we're on campus. We'll be interviewing for careers in Marketing, Computer Applications, Programming, Research and Development, Manufacturing, and Field Engineering.

Sign up for an interview at your placement office, even if you're headed for graduate school or military service. And if you can't make a campus interview, send an outline of your interests and educational background to Mr. E. C. Purtell, Jr., IBM Corporation, 3424 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90005. We're an equal opportunity employer.

Space Grant Given To Y Physics Dept.

The renewal of a grant for the study of interplanetary magnetic fields has been awarded to BYU by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Dr. Douglas E. Jones of the BYU Physics Department has been experimenting with magnetometers located on Mariner IV and V in an effort to measure interplanetary magnetic fields and the magnetic fields of the near planets. Mariner IV was sent to Mars in 1965 and Mariner V is presently on its way to Venus.

The continued research made possible by this grant will be conducted by Dr. Jones and Dr. Jae R. Halliford together with several graduate assistants.

Music Dept. Lengthens Ticket Hours

The Music Dept. has lengthened its ticket booth hours to accommodate concert-goers, announced Dr. Harold Goodman, chairman.

The west booths will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for tickets to all musical events and pageants. Drama production hours will stay the same, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Hopefully, this will alleviate the congestion too often found at the door of ticket offices all over campus, stated Dr. Goodman.

All ticket sales begin one week prior to performances. Distribution on a one-ticket-per-activity-card basis. Tickets may not be exchanged or refunded. Activity cards will not be honored without pictures and must be presented with the ticket the night of the performance.

Doors will be closed at 8:15. Latecomers will be admitted after completion of the work.

Tickets may be purchased non-University friends and Reduced rates will be extended to groups of over 15. Fulltime students at the Language Institute will also receive rates.
